

FRANK W. MILLER DEAD

Carried Off by Dropsy and Heart
Leakage, at Pikeville,
Saturday, July 9.

On July 9, 1921, Frank W. Miller, of Pikeville, Bledsoe county, died at the age of 59 years, of dropsy, resulting from a complication of Bright's disease and leakage of the heart. He passed away at the home of his brother Chas. Miller, with whom he resided since the death of his mother in 1917. The remains were taken to Cumberland county and interred in the Thomas Springs cemetery, where his father, two brothers, and numerous other relatives are resting.

He was never married but leaves a sister, two brothers, numerous nieces and nephews, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. His sister, Mrs. John A. Brown, of Buhl, Idaho and brothers Chas. and H. B. Miller of Pikeville, were all with him in his last hours of suffering.

"Uncle Frank" was formerly a citizen of Cumberland county, having spent forty-three years of his life here. He was the son of the late Jas. Miller, well known to older citizens as "Uncle Jim", and was born in White county, Dec. 30, 1861. From there he moved with his parents to Kentucky during the civil war. Thence back to Bledsoe county, Tennessee, and at the age of 6 years we find him in Cumberland county. Here he grew up into manhood and spent the greater part of his life. He attended school at Pleasant Hill in its pioneer days. Was a successful farmer and stock raiser. Ten years ago he moved with his mother to Bledsoe county where he resided up to his death.

"Uncle Frank" was a man noted for his honesty, integrity, generosity and greatness of heart, which was capable of reaching out and feeling for others in their afflictions and suffering. He was a friend of the needy, no man, woman or child was ever turned away hungry from his door whether relative, friend, stranger or tramp. His trust in humanity was wonderful, always prone to judge others by his own honesty of heart. If he had anything good to say of one he said it if not, he kept silent. Airing the faults of others was a quality he did not possess. If any one did him an injury he never betrayed it unless one caught the hurt expression in his eyes.

He spent his life in service for others. His health has been failing for the past few years but he could not be persuaded to give up work till the "Grim Reaper" had too firm a hold on him. It can be said for him that he did his part. He had a quaint form of humor that we are all going to sadly miss.

FOR OUR AUTOISTS

Keep your tires properly inflated at all times.

Apply the brakes carefully. Shift gears carefully.

Have your carburetor adjusted for warm weather.

Try the fan occasionally to be sure the belt is tight enough.

Wipe all sand and grit out of the casing before inserting a new tube.

Oil the speedometer drive frequently, to keep it working quietly for a long time.

Keep the spark advanced just short of the point where it makes a knock. It will save gas.

Avoid ruts and save the side walls of your tires.

Semi-hard graphite grease is best for slow moving bearings.

Plunging forward on low gear puts a severe strain on the rear axle and driving gear.

Keep in the tool box a chart of the wiring system, for reference in case of accident.

TO TEACHERS

The County Board of Education will meet at the Court House in Crossville on Thursday and Friday, July 28 and 29 to employ the teachers for the county schools.

The rural schools will begin on Monday, August 1.

One seldom feels how badly his education has been neglected except when he undertakes to read out loud.

Buy a pipe—
and some P.A.

Get the joy that's due you!

We print it right here that if you don't know the "feel" and the friendship of a joy's jimmy pipe—GO GET ONE! And—get some Prince Albert and bang a howdy-do on the big smoke-gong!

For, Prince Albert's quality—flavor—coolness—fragrance—is in a class of its own! You never tasted such tobacco! Why—figure out what it alone means to your tongue and temper when we tell you that Prince Albert can't bite, can't parch! Our exclusive patented process fixes that!

Prince Albert is a revelation in a makin's cigarette! My, but how that delightful flavor makes a dent! And, how it does answer that hankering! Prince Albert rolls easy and stays put because it is crimped cut. And, say—oh, go on and get the papers or a pipe! Do it right now!

Prince Albert is sold in tippy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors and in the pound crystal glass humidors with sponge moistener top.

Baxter Southard, wife and family left Sunday for an extended trip thru Texas and Oklahoma. While away they will visit Dr. Dallas Southard and wife. They will likely be absent some two or three weeks.

The editor arrived from Knoxville Saturday after passing a week in the General Hospital there. While he is on the job he is not quite as full of vigor and energy as he hopes to be in a short time. He is gaining rapidly and expects to be O. K. in a short time.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

"I wonder if it's loaded. I'll look down the barrel and see."

"Oh, listen! That's the train whistle. Step on the accelerator and we'll try to get across before it comes."

"They say these things can't possibly explode, no matter how much you throw them around."

"I wonder if this rope will hold my weight."

"It's no fun swimming around in here. I'm going out beyond the life lines."

"Which one of these is the third rail anyway?"

"There's only one way to manage a mule. Walk right up in back of him and surprise him."

"That firecracker must have gone out. I'll light it again."

"Watch me skate out past the 'Danger' sign. I bet I can touch it."

"These traffic policemen think they own the city. They can't stop me. I'm going across the street now. Let the chauffeurs look out for me."

"What a funny noise that snake makes. I think I'll step on him."

"I've never driven a car in the traffic before. But they say it's perfectly simple."

"I think I'll mix a little nitric acid with this chloride of potassium and see what happens."—Dorothy Parker in "Life."

Baffled at Last.

"Madam Cleo, the soothsayer has retired from business, a victim of the housing shortage."

"How did that come about?"

"Most of her clients wanted to know where they'd be living next year and all the usual methods for prying into the future failed."

Senator Poague will speak at Winesap on Saturday, July 30, 3.00 p. m., and will organize a lodge of the Knights and Ladies Order of the Red Cross at 8.00 p. m. Members will be received at both meetings.

The new fraternal order, Knights and Ladies Order of the Red Cross, is meeting with most wonderful success in this county as well as everywhere it has thus far been introduced. At the meeting of the Waldensia lodge Saturday night, July 16, it started off with 108 members and several applications. Sherman Cox has been appointed deputy for Waldensia and Crab Orchard and any who may wish to join in that part of the county should see him.

J. W. Laminack, wife and daughter plan to leave tomorrow in their car on a visit of some 30 days with relatives in Alabama. Mr. Laminack and family will pull up finally at Muscadine, Alabama, where his father resides and where a singing convention has been held each year since 1886. The singing lasts for three days and people come for miles around and even from other states. Mr. Laminack has not missed a meeting of the singing convention, save one, since the organization was perfected. When one comes to consider that just now peaches and watermelons are coming to their best, it is easy to see that Mr. Laminack and family are in for a most delightful time. The singing convention will convene August 5 and hold for three days.

The Art Circle will meet with Mrs. S. C. Bishop this week.
